ABOUT

Tim Wise, originally from Baltimore, MD has been working in the graphic design and marketing field since 2005. He has a passion for creating design work that captures the everyday adventures that living in an outdoor community provides. For the past decade, Tim has worked in the cycling industry doing studio product photography, print ads, web banners and creating print fliers for distribution to over 5000 bike shops throughout North America.

In the 90's he helped run an East Coast skateboarding company named Thirteen Colonies Skateboards.

Tim enjoys mountain biking, photography and everything to do with outdoor life.
